ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of the School District of Orford:

It is a privilege to present this, my eighth annual report as a part of the report of the School Board to the School District of Orford. This report will contain no outstanding innovations. It will include a statement of the finances, the recommended budget and the school records.

Overview. The major work of the schools has been carried on in a satisfactory manner. Perhaps one item which shows the contribution of the pupils to the work of the community at large is that through both schools more than $4500 was saved for the purchase of war stamps and bonds. This effort of the pupils made possible the purchase by the government of an ambulance and other equipment. The community canning center has operated successfully with thousands of cans of fruits, vegetables and meats processed for the individual consumer as well as a portion for the school lunch program in our schools. This latter program has made so great a contribution to the well-being of the boys and girls that it should be continued indefinitely whether or not any federal subsidy is allowed for its operation. The School Board, citizens and parents have united in these efforts to make the schools something more than merely places in which the boys and girls learn the 3 R's.

High School. The high school is serving the interests of the pupils from a wider area than the Township of Orford. This means that it will be continuously necessary to make sure that the program there is of such a nature as to attract the young people in our nearby communities, thus making it possible for the high school to be operated within the town. The change in principalships has not worked to the serious detriment of the school, as the present Headmaster is a woman of wide experience, excellent educational background and pleasing personality. Under the present leadership it has been possible to clarify some of the records in the school and to make sure that the pupils receive just credit for work done. So many of the graduates and those who have attended this school have served their country during the past few years that it is highly appropriate that the schools and community recognize their services and welcome them on their return to their regular occupations. The teaching staff other than the Headmaster is changing more or less constantly, but it should be understood that the work of one teacher is carefully planned in advance and accomplishments that she has made are so recorded as to make the program continuous, just as would be the case were one teacher to carry a subject for the entire year. In other words, the mere fact that we operate the school as a training school for cadet teachers does not seriously handicap the boys and girls who attend. This is evidenced also by the fact that some of our graduates going on to colleges of various types stand in the upper quarter of their respective schools. Larger high schools do very little better in this regard than has Orford.

Attendance. The school attendance has generally been satisfactory, but with more care on the part of parents and on the part of some of the pupils an even more regular attendance at the schools would result. The total number of pupils in the schools remains fairly constant although there is some evidence that it may increase now that the emergency is passing.

School Union. The present school union, made up of the four towns, Hanover, Enfield, Lyme and Orford, has functioned without undue friction during the past eight years. The teacher-load plus the load of necessary office records and reports make the work of a superintendent in such a union rather more arduous than one person should be asked to carry. It is for this reason that there has been maintained in the office of the superintendent a secretary to assist in taking care of the necessary detail work. The keeping of the financial records of the district is not the prime consideration as far as the superintendent's work is concerned. He must gather material for the use of the teachers constantly, must direct them often by letters and communications, must care for the purchase of textbooks and supplies, prepare reports for the State Department, see to it that all of the people keeping the financial records are doing it in accordance with the State requirements, attend various functions of the pupils in each of the communities which he represents, and carry on a thousand and one activities which cannot be easily enumerated. This means that unless the superintendent is given adequate assistance the communities which employ him cannot expect to receive from him as much in valuable service as he could render were he given adequate relief. It is for these reasons that I strongly recommend that Orford unite with the other towns in the union in making a small contribution toward the payment of the secretary so that a competent person can always be employed to carry on much of this work under the direction of the superintendent.

Repairs. There are a few needed repairs which should be undertaken in the near future. Your attention has already been directed to the need for better toilet facilities at the Orfordville school and you have under consideration the exterior painting of that building. The sooner this work is done the less likely the School District will be to face larger repair bills. Better seating facilities for the upper grade room in the Street have been mentioned and this need should be met as soon as possible. The interior finish of the Street building should be overhauled and the broken panels replaced, both from the standpoint of appearance and from the standpoint of maintenance of the building. Additional seating facilities should also be provided for the high school. Although the moving of chairs from one room to another has been greatly lessened, there is still need for twenty or more well-built chairs to be distributed in the typewriting room and laboratory. Some of the typewriters will need to be exchanged for new machines as soon as the manufacturers begin to place such machines on the general market. It is desirable at both buildings to have such playground apparatus as is now available repaired and other apparatus added as lumber and labor become available for such purposes. It will be necessary soon to redress the roof of the canning center in order to keep that building in wholesome repair. Other minor repairs are usually taken care of currently and should be continued. These particular items are pointed out to the end that they be in the minds of the School Board and citizens so that action will be taken without too great delay.

Teachers. Your attention is again directed toward the need for continuing a somewhat higher salary range than was necessitated a few years ago. A fairly recent up-to-date survey of the salaries paid teachers throughout 230 school districts of the State shows a fairly definite trend toward higher salary ranges. Only 31 of the school districts pay salaries less than $1200 per year. If it is to maintain its position among the other towns of the State, Orford will need only to continue present salaries but may be forced to consider further increases. This is not surprising when we know the increasing costs of paid workers in other occupations requiring a much shorter period of training.

Remarks. Orford is to be congratulated that it has been able to operate its schools on a reasonably satisfactory and economic basis during the past few years. The town is also fortunate that it has a School Board which is thoroughly interested in the welfare of the schools. Everyone connected with the schools recognize the sincere desire on the part of the parents and citizens to cooperate. These factors place an added obligation upon pupils, teachers, and superintendent to make their efforts count toward a more effective school program.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT J. FULLER,
Superintendent of Schools.
